

THE CHINA MAIL.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE NAVAL AUTHORITIES AND MISSING STEAMERS.

The following correspondence has been sent to us for publication:—

SCOTTISH ORIENTAL S. S. CO., LTD.,
Hongkong, Jan. 11th, 1892.

Commander G. W. Smith,
H. M. S. Viceroy.

Sir,—The Scottish Oriental Co.'s steamer Scalp Nan left Java for Hongkong on 15th ultmo, was sighted by the Hangchow a few miles North of Cubra Island on 22nd Dec., and has not since been heard of. The Hangchow, bound on a similar voyage, experienced terrible weather and ran back to Manila, arriving here on the 2nd instant. The Scalp Nan may have been driven on to the Scarborough Shoal, or she may be anchored in one of the Bays of the Coast of Luzon for shelter, and to short of coal and food.

I have therefore to appeal to you to send a gun-vessel to search the steamer or any vessel which can be found in the neighbourhood indicated.

I am, Sir, Your Obedient Servant,

GEORGE T. HOPKINS,
Agent Scottish Oriental S. S. Co. Limited.

Impressum at Hongkong, 12th January, 1892.

Geo. T. Hopkins, Esq.
Scottish Oriental S. S. Co.

Sir,—I am directed by the Vice-Admiral Commander-in-Chief to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 11th instant addressed to Commander Church, asking that you may be despatched to the Coast of Luzon to search for your overdue vessel Scalp Nan, and to acquaint you that he is of opinion the search requested is more properly one to be instituted by vessels of the Scottish Oriental Co. than by the Royal Navy, as, in his opinion, the ship is in no greater danger of becoming obsolete than are the ships of the great maritime nations of the world.

UNCLE SAM'S SHIPS.—The United States is making good progress in building its navy. We see by the Secretary of the Navy's Report, that thirteen new vessels have been placed in commission during 1891. Four of these were fitted during the past year, and the number of war vessels that have been completed, since the above date, is fifteen. The number still to be completed is twenty-five, making forty ships in all. These consist of monitors, cruisers, gunboats, harbor defence rams, torpedo boats and two practice cruisers. The whole fleet will be completed in 1894. There are also three tug-boats in process of construction. The United States fleet, when completed, will be respectable if not formidable. There is, of course, a chance of accident to the vessels and their armament becoming obsolete before they are completed. So many vessels are made in guns, in armor and in engines of war in these days, that the vessel which meets all the requirements of this year may next year or the year after, be inherently defective. The armament of these ships of war are fully up to the science of the day, as is their armor, machinery and equipment. American ships of war, therefore, are in no greater danger of becoming obsolete than are the ships of the great maritime nations of the world.

THE SHIPPING DISASTER NEAR GUCUPI POINT.

GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.

Definite information has been received with reference to the steamer Lee by Captain Lunt of the Melito to founder of Gucupi Point on Friday morning, the 8th inst.

Last night a telegram was received by Admiral Richards from Captain Burg, of the Porpoise, at Swatow to the following effect:—Nanchow sunk; 50 Chinese saved; arrived here; 42 drowned.

—Porpoise. Upon the intimation of Captain Lunt's information Admiral Richards sent the Porpoise north to endeavour to find out definitely if a disaster had occurred. At Gucupi Point Captain Burr went ashore with an interpreter and made inquiries among the villagers, when it was learned that 20 men had come ashore in a whale boat. No information could be got as to the name of the vessel, as the shipwrecked people had left for Swatow overland, where apparently the Porpoise had sailed as no trace of the wreck could be found off the Gucupi Point. Last night Messrs Ban Ma and Co., the agents for the Nanchow, also received a telegram from Swatow as follows:—Nanchow sunk; 44 passengers and 64 passengers saved and arrived here. This was understood that the steamer cleared from Hongkong for Amoy with 491 passengers and a crew of 68 which latter included Captain Lee and four European officers. Of course, the above figures can merely be taken as approximate, but there can be no doubt that there has been considerable loss of life, the total number drowned being between 490 and 500. The majority of the passengers were bound from the Straits to Amoy, and it has been ascertained that 22 adults and one child were shipped at Hongkong for Amoy.

No information has yet been received of the Scalp Nan, nor of the Torrington, the former having been at Gucupi Point, and the latter to the Union Line. There is a rumor that the Torrington has put into Manila, but of this no authentic information has been received by the agents.

Since writing the above we have received the following from the Agents of the Torrington, Mr. Duddell, Carill & Co.:—

'We have received a telegram this evening from Torrington stating that the A. Torrington has put into shore with machinery out of order and from stress of weather, and will sail on or about the 16th instant. We expect her here on or about the 19th inst.'

THE SEIZURE OF A BRITISH WHALE-HOUSE AT FATHSEN.

HIGH-HANDED PROCEEDINGS OF THE CHINESE AUTOCRACY.

A correspondent at Fathsen writes as follows:—The mandarins have favoured Fathsen with another visit in connection with the seizure of the British warehouse there. They came with flags, gongs and drums, and on a float of nine or ten large junks towed by steam launches, and arrested off all the contents of the godowns of which they obtained possession so unlawfully a few days ago. The merchandise carried on a raft of cotton yarn, piece goods, in plate, and bamboo, upon all of which full duty had been paid. They removed also the furniture, and even the very fittings of the warehouse and some of the glass windows, everything indeed that was movable and might sell for a cent.

Through all the uproar and excitement which these proceedings caused the people of Fathsen were remarkably quiet. Since they learned that the foreign house was investigated by the notorious extortions of native customs, the sympathies of the Fathsen populace have been entirely with the foreigner.

The Viceroy says in justification of his action that he has received some secret information. Very likely he has.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

Mr. Lynch in his further remarks said that if it was held that this action was not maintainable the result would be that those members who had not drawn and paid regularly were in a worse position than those who had drawn and did not choose to pay afterwards.

If their Lordships held that the action for money lent was valid, it would be held that the man who got the first payment would leave the Colony.

Mr. Justice Clarke—That is what very often happens.

THE CHINA MAIL.

No. 9030.—JANUARY 13, 1892.

Intimations.

THE CHINA REVIEW.

PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuation of "Notes and Queries on China and Japan," has reached its Nineteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the Far East, and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous in acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Botany, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the magazine would be more generally used.

The Review department receives special attention, and endorsements are made to present a careful and accurate record of Literature on China, etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to "Editor, China Review," care of China Mail Office.

The Notes and Queries are still continued and form an important means of obtaining from and diffusing among students knowledge on obscure points.

The Correspondence column also affords further and greater facilities for the interchange of views and discussion of various topics.

Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are received. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, the Imperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies throughout whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is continually cultivated, through the regular contributions of Dr. Chalmers, Rev. Elie Broadbent, and Ruth, Professor Legge, and Misses Hallion, Watters, Steens, Phillips, MacIntyre, Gurd, Jameson, Faber, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Gilkes, Pison, and Taylor—all well-known names, indicative of sound scholarship throughout the mastery of their subjects.

The Subscription is £5.50 per annum, postage included, payable in advance.

Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to. Address "Manager, China Mail Office."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising paper."—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).

"The China Review"  has an excellent table of contents."—Oriental Empire.

"The publication always contains subjects of interest to seafarers in the Far East and the present issue will hold favorable if not advantageous comparison, with preceding numbers."—Oriental Empire.

This number contains several articles of interest and value to the China trader.

"The China Review" for September-Octo-ber fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterizes that publication, and although it forms a very interesting and readable number, meteorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Elie Broadbent, on "The Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formosa," by Mr. Goo Phillips, contains some interesting historical information, much of it is not easily found. The Notices of New Books are much the most general and appreciative review of "The Divine Comedy of Nan-Han" and the Notes and Queries are as usual very interesting."—North-China Daily News.

"A substantial and reliable Record which all students of China and the Chinese world will do well to patronize."—Changshutshin.

"The November-December number of the China Review contains very little unusual, but the few articles are very interesting. The opening paper by Mr. Herbert A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chinese" treats of a question that has long been of great importance in the eyes of all the most learned men."—Mr. H. Parker.

"Short Journeys in Szechuan" are continued, and a goodly instalment of those travels in the interior of China is given. Mr. F. H. Baltor contributes a paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history. A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Authors in Western Europe and Java," might especially have been placed under the heading of "Reading complete Number."—H. K. Deth Press.

"Trubert's Oriental Record" contains the following notice of the China Review:—

"The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed by late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of large amounts of information, and the present issue of the Review is now provided extremely desirable, and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors."

Some translations from the novels and plays are marked by the author's name, and are of great interest.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor has promised to continue it in that language.

"The China Review" is now available in the English language, and the editor